

QUESTIONS TO ASK YOUR SURGEON: C-SECTION REVISION

- How do you perform c-section revision?

In removing a c-section scar, Dr. Rahban must remove all scar tissue down to the level of the muscle. He does this by undermining the scar itself, ensuring that all unsightly tissue is excised, leaving behind only healthy, fresh tissue from which to work.

- Do you use layered closure?

In closing incisions, Dr. Rahban meticulously closes the incision from the inside out, ensuring each underlying layer is perfectly lined up and evenly sutured together. As a result, the scar from Dr. Rahban's incision is virtually invisible, requiring no further revision. This procedure generally takes an hour to perform.

- Do you offer a second consultation prior to my procedure?

Every patient goes through a thorough pre-operative process. This begins with a pre-op visit two weeks prior to surgery. This is similar to a second consult. During this time, you will go over the details of your surgery with Dr. Rahban, and you will get a second opportunity to ask questions and go over your procedure, thus ensuring a complete understanding.

- How many follow-up appointments do we have?

After a tummy tuck, Dr. Rahban schedules a total of five follow-up appointments. Most plastic surgeons schedule two follow-ups, during which time you may not even see the doctor. During every follow-up appointment, Dr. Rabhan sees his patients personally.
